COMBAT PATROL

BUTCHERS OF HYPORIA

CHAOS DAEMONS | WARHAMMER 40,000 | 11TH EDITION

Dark legend throughout the Hyporia Cluster and beyond tells of a murderous crimson horde of malevolent otherworldly hunters that appear from nowhere and leave carnage in their wake. Yet even the most proscribed and lurid folklore falls short of the true horror of Kh'har'ret the Butcher. Conjured forth by terrible acts of bloodshed and murder, this daemon warlord and its unholy followers rampage across realspace, venting their unquenchable bloodlust on all in their paths.

ARMY RULES

THE SHADOW OF CHAOS

When daemons pour into realspace, maelstroms of warp energy spill through in their wake. Manifest emotion and unbridled, nightmarish forces twist all that they touch, reshaping the landscape into bizarre forms while tormenting mortal beings to madness. To be embroiled in such tempests is to endure conditions utterly anathema to the fundamental laws of reality, provoking primal terror in even the most emotionless warriors.

Certain areas of the battlefield are considered to be within your army's Shadow of Chaos, as follows: Your deployment zone is always within your army's Shadow of Chaos. At the start of any phase, if you control at least half of the objective markers within No Man's Land, until the end of that phase, No Man's Land is within your army's Shadow of Chaos. At the start of any phase, if you control at least half of the objective markers within your opponent's deployment zone, until the end of that phase, your opponent's deployment zone is within your army's Shadow of Chaos.

Daemonic Manifestation — While a unit from your army is within your army's Shadow of Chaos, each time that unit takes a Battle-shock test, add 1 to that test and, if that test is passed, one model in that unit regains up to D3 lost wounds (if that unit is a Battleline unit and that test is passed, up to D3 destroyed models can be returned to that unit instead).

Daemonic Terror — While an enemy unit is within your army's Shadow of Chaos, each time that unit takes a Battle-shock test, subtract 1 from that test and, if that test is failed, that enemy unit suffers D3 mortal wounds.
