HOMEBREW — HH-ERA (30K) — THOUSAND SONS ONLY

CASTELLAX-ACHEA AUTOMATA

60 POINTS

RUNE-WARDED WAR MACHINE

LEGIONES ASTARTES • THOUSAND SONS • TRAITOR

Every Castellax-Achea is carved with wards before it ever walks — the Legion learned early that a mind touching the warp needs somewhere for the backlash to go that isn't a Battle-Brother.

Designer's Note. Built from the real HH3e digitized "Castellax-Achea" profile (`Thousand Sons.json`) — a rune-warded variant of the shared Castellax combat automata chassis, unique to the Thousand Sons. Real stat line: M6/WS3/BS3/S6/T6/W4/I3/A3/LD12/SAV3+/INV5+, 80pts (HH3e economy), translated to 60pts. Achea Force Claws are real and canonically named (real Breaching(5+), translated to Anti-vehicle 5+, plus Devastating Wounds reflecting the weapon's Psychic trait). The default twin Asphyx bolt cannons (real Rending(4+), translated to Devastating Wounds) were kept as the baseline loadout rather than building out the real Æther-fire cannon swap option, for card-space reasons. Psychic Conduit is a real, genuinely distinctive rule — in the source, it lets the automata absorb Perils of the Warp wounds that would otherwise hit a nearby Thousand Sons Psyker. 11e has no Perils-of-the-Warp mechanic to hook into, so this was translated as Aegis Conduit, an always-on defensive aura for nearby Psyker models, preserving the "the automata protects the Legion's sorcerers" core idea rather than the exact mechanic. 11e codex update (18 Oct 2026): statline unchanged; Astartes bolt weapons S5 AP-1 (pistols [CLOSE-QUARTERS]) and codex-named weapons on the codex profile; points scaled with Dreadnought [Legends] 135→135.
