THE ORDER'S HIDDEN HAND

LEGIONES ASTARTES • DARK ANGELS • LOYALIST

Almost no one outside the Order even knows the Firewing exists. That is, itself, the point — a marked target rarely sees the blade that ends the argument.

Designer's Note. Built from the real HH3e digitized "Firewing Enigmatii" profile (`Dark Angels.json`) — the Dark Angels' own deep-cut specialist company, a secretive antigrav-mobile cabal even most of the Legion doesn't know exists. Real stat line: M12/WS5/BS4/S4/T4/W2/I4/A3/LD8, SAV3+, no invulnerable save, 90pts/model (HH3e economy) — by far the fastest infantry profile pulled for this Legion (M12 vs the standard M6-M7), translated directly as M12" in 11e. Priced at 210pts for a fixed 3-model unit (70pts/model). The Calibanite Charge-Blade's real two-mode profile (Charged: slower, harder-hitting, real Breaching(6+); Uncharged: faster, weaker, no special rules) is preserved as a genuine per-fight choice rather than collapsed into one averaged profile. The Needle Pistol and Enigmatus Missile Launcher (three real firing modes in the source — Frag/Krak/Stasis, simplified here to the Krak profile for card-space) are both real and canonically named. The real Marked for Death rule (a Victory Points scoring mechanic tied to the Vanguard(X) special rule) is a mission-scoring mechanic without a clean 11e equivalent, and was not built — noted here rather than invented into something it isn't. 11e codex update (18 Oct 2026): power armour T5 like the codex Intercessors and the Chaos Legionaries; Astartes bolt weapons S5 AP-1
