CABAL ADEPT

LEGIONES ASTARTES • THOUSAND SONS • TRAITOR

Not every sorcerer on Prospero has a name the rest of the Imperium will ever learn. Most of them never wanted one — the work was always the point, not the credit.

Designer's Note. Built from the real HH3e digitized "Prosperine Sorcerer" profile (`Thousand Sons.json`) — a generic, non-unique Cabal Adept, the Thousand Sons' rank-and-file battle-sorcerer HQ choice, distinct from the named Ahriman/Amon characters. Real stat line: M7/WS5/BS5/S4/T4/W3/I5/A4/LD8/SAV2+/INV5+, 105pts (HH3e economy) — deliberately a step below the named characters' W4/LD10/INV4+, translated to 80pts using the same ratio. Prosperine Spirestave is real and canonically named (real Force(D)/Conduit, translated to Devastating Wounds; the real Conduit rule, which boosts the Strength of any additional psychic weapon this model manifests, was not built separately since this project doesn't construct a full discipline-power system). The real profile's three signature discipline powers (Biomantic Slam, Wildfire, Immovable Force — a melee/blast/pin option respectively) were not built as separate weapon profiles for card-space reasons, consistent with how Magnus's and Ahriman's own broader Arcana/discipline access was simplified elsewhere on this Legion's roster. 11e codex update (18 Oct 2026): power armour T5 like the codex Intercessors and the Chaos Legionaries; Astartes bolt weapons S5 AP-1 (pistols [CLOSE-QUARTERS]) and codex-named weapons on the codex profile; points scaled with Librarian 70→75.
