Designer's Note. Built from the real HH3e digitized "Saul Tarvitz" profile (`Emperor's Children.json`) — and, like Garviel Loken for the Sons of Horus, a genuine surprise in the source data: the real profile is explicitly tagged Loyalist, filed natively in his own Legion's book rather than in Blackshields/Shattered Legions/Knights-Errant, making him this Legion's own standing loyalist-holdout answer with no dual-Faction-Keyword pattern needed. Real stat line: M7/WS6/BS5/S4/T4/W3/I5/A4/LD10/SAV2+/INV4+, 215pts (HH3e economy), priced at 165pts using this Legion's ~0.76 ratio. Nemesis Bolter and Charnabal Broadsword are both real and canonically named (real Breaching(5+) on both weapons, translated to Anti-vehicle 5+; real Precision(4+) on the bolter translated to the 11e core [PRECISION] ability; real Duellist's Edge(1) on the sword uses this project's standard Fights-First-vs-

Characters rendering). Hatred(Traitors) is real — his own hatred for the Legions that turned at Isstvan III, translated using the established Dominator Cohort/Hatred rendering. Officer of the Line(2) is real; its exact source text wasn't available in this pass, so it's rendered here as a Battle-shock-immunity aura for nearby Loyalist units, matching his command-officer fluff. A Brother Betrayed is a real, genuinely distinctive Gambit — in the source it grants a WS/S/T buff specifically against the four Legions present at the Istvaan III Drop Site Massacre (Emperor's Children, World Eaters, Sons of Horus, Death Guard) — translated here as a Strength/Toughness buff against those same four Faction Keywords when he fights their forces, preserving the real personal-vendetta targeting rather than generalizing it into a flat buff. 11e codex update (18 Oct 2026): power armour T5 like the codex Intercessors and the Chaos Legionaries; Astartes bolt weapons S5 AP-1 (pistols [CLOSE-QUARTERS]) and codex-named weapons on the codex profile; points scaled with Captain 80→90.
