HOMEBREW — HH-ERA (30K)

STORMSEER

75 POINTS

CHOGORIAN WEATHER-READER

LEGIONES ASTARTES • WHITE SCARS • LOYALIST

The storm was already coming before the Stormseer ever raised a hand — all he does is make sure it lands where it's needed.

> Designer's Note. Built from the real HH3e digitized "Stormseer" profile (`White Scars.json`) — a generic, non-unique Librarian-equivalent HQ, this Legion's rank-and-file battle-psyker choice, distinct from the named Jaghatai Khan/Qin Xa/Hibou Khan characters. Real stat line: M7/WS5/BS5/S4/T4/W3/I5/A4/LD8/SAV2+/INV5+, 95pts (HH3e economy), priced at 70pts using the same ~0.76 ratio applied to Thousand Sons' own generic Prosperine Sorcerer HQ. Force staff is real and canonically named (real Force(D), translated to Devastating Wounds, matching this project's standard Force-weapon rendering). Call of the Wind is a real, named Stormcalling-discipline psychic power, translated here as a single once-per-battle mortal-wound attack rather than a full discipline-power list, consistent with how this project has handled every other Legion's broader psychic-power access. The real profile's "Invocation of the Razing Tempest" synergy — real HH3e text extends Call of the Wind's range and removes its line-of-sight requirement when targeting a unit that includes a Dark Sons of Death model — is a genuine, distinctive cross-unit tie between this Legion's caster and its jump-assault squad, but was not built as a full mechanic here since it would require porting the underlying Focus/psychic-test sub-system rather than a single power; noted for completeness rather than mechanically ported. 11e codex update (18 Oct 2026): power armour T5 like the codex Intercessors and the Chaos Legionaries; Astartes bolt weapons S5 AP-1 (pistols [CLOSE-QUARTERS]) and codex-named weapons on the codex profile; points scaled with Librarian 70→75.
