Chronus stands beside his tank's commander cupola when peace allows and inside it when battle breaks. He has commanded a Predator, two Vindicators, three Whirlwinds, four Land Raiders, and the Chapter's Stormraven in the past century, and would dispute the Forge Master's claim that any tank is the Master's.

ABILITIES

Core

Leader.

Faction

Oath of Moment.

Leader (Vehicle)

Unlike other Leader characters, this model attaches to a VEHICLE. This model can be attached to one of the following Adeptus Astartes Vehicle units: Predator Annihilator, Predator Destructor, Vindicator, Whirlwind, Land Raider (any variant), Repulsor, Repulsor Executioner, Gladiator. While attached, Chronus is in the tank's commander cupola (cannot be targeted separately, treat as part of the vehicle for all purposes including Look Out, Sir).

Tank Mastery

While this model is attached to a Vehicle, that Vehicle improves its Ballistic Skill by 1 (e.g. BS 4+ becomes BS 3+) AND can re-roll a single Wound roll of 1 each phase.

Crew Coordination

If the Vehicle Chronus is attached to Remained Stationary in your previous turn, you can re-roll Hit rolls of 1 with all of that Vehicle's ranged attacks until the end of the turn.

Master of Armoured Warfare

The Vehicle Chronus is attached to ignores the modifier to Hit rolls from moving and firing Heavy weapons.

Designer's Note

Homebrew — 5th-9th Ed source. Antaro Chronus was the Ultramarines' Tank Ace character across 5th-9th Ed Codex: Space Marines — a full Captain-rank tanker who could command any Marine tank, not just a Predator. Canonical 10e has only "Sergeant Chronus" as a sub-model of the Predator datasheet — a much-diminished version. This 10e conversion restores the original identity: an Infantry Character with a unique Leader (Vehicle) rule that attaches him to any Predator / Vindicator / Whirlwind / Land Raider / Repulsor / Gladiator. The Vehicle gains +1 BS, re-roll-Wound-1, stationary-bonus re-roll Hit-1, and ignore-Heavy-movement-penalty — the four classic Tank Ace bonuses condensed into 10e's ability language. Use canonical Sergeant Chronus model (or any Marine tanker) on a 28mm base; the Vehicle he commands is whatever fits your list.
