Kheradruakh wields a blade of forged void-shadow that needs neither rest nor sharpening. Each strike severs neck from torso with sun-cleaving certainty. He has personally taken the heads of three Phoenix Lords, a Custodes Tribune, and an unknowable count of lesser foes.

ABILITIES

Core

Leader, Lone Operative, Deep Strike, Stealth, Infiltrators.

Faction

Power From Pain.

Leader

This model can be attached to one of the following units: Mandrakes.

Shadow Cloak

This model has a 5+ Invulnerable Save. Each time a ranged attack would target this model, if the attacker is more than 12" away, the attack fails on an unmodified Hit roll of 1-3 (the shadow obscures the target).

Six Heads

Each time this model destroys an enemy Character in the Fight phase, until the end of the battle the Attacks characteristic of Decapitating Blade is increased by 1 (cumulative; up to a maximum of +5 from this ability).

Heart of Living Shadow

This model is not slowed by Difficult Terrain and treats any terrain feature as an Open terrain feature for movement purposes. In addition, this model can be set up in Strategic Reserves with no Strategic Reserves point cost (the Mandrakes' shadow-realm travel).

Tide of Shadow [AURA]

While a friendly Mandrakes unit is within 6" of this model, that unit gains the [INFILTRATORS] keyword AND each model in that unit can attempt to Deny the Witch as if it were a Psyker (Deny on 2D6 = 7+).

Designer's Note

Homebrew — 5th Ed (Codex Dark Eldar 2010). Non-BSData source: dropped from BSData before 7e. Kheradruakh — 'the Decapitator' — is the Mandrake-Prince hero. Stats anchor on a 10e Mandrake-elite tier (T3/W5/Sv5+/5++) with M8" for shadow-stride movement. Six Heads is the canonical signature: he gets stronger each time he takes a character's head — escalating attack count. Shadow Cloak adds long-range obscure (the canonical 5e Stealth + 'shadow form' rules). Heart of Living Shadow gives him free Strategic Reserves access (modern equivalent of the canonical 5e 'shadow realm' deployment). Tide of Shadow extends his shadow-realm protection to allied Mandrakes plus Drukhari psy-resistance flavor.
