The Phased Plasma-Flamer generates flame in a plasma-like state, vaporising hardened ceramite. The Ionic Discharge Cannon emits an EMP burst on detonation, designed to incapacitate enemy war engines.

ABILITIES

Core

Deep Strike, Fly.

Faction

For the Greater Good.

Nova Reactor

In your Command phase, you can activate the Nova Reactor: this model suffers 1 mortal wound, then select one of the following effects until the start of your next Command phase:

- Nova Shield: Improve this model's invulnerable save to 4+.
- Nova-charge: Phased plasma-flamer and ionic discharge cannon use their Nova profiles this turn.
- Plasma Surge: Add 6" to this model's Move characteristic until the end of the turn.

Plasma Plume

Each time this model Advances, after it has moved, you can select one enemy unit it has moved over (or within 1" of) — that unit takes D3 mortal wounds.

Damaged: 1–4 Wounds Remaining

While this model has 1–4 wounds remaining, each time it makes an attack, subtract 1 from the Hit roll.

Designer's Note

Homebrew — 9th Ed Forge World source. The XV109 Y'vahra is a fast assault variant of the heavy battlesuit chassis, built around close-range plasma-flame and ionic firepower. In 10e, the Crisis Battlesuits and Riptide cover the assault role; this homebrew preserves the Y'vahra's distinct identity as a hyper-mobile (M14") flame/melta walker that gets in your face and burns. Stats reflect the 9th Ed profile (T7 W8–14) updated to 10e scaling. Triple-barrelled phased plasma-flamer is Torrent + Ignores Cover; ionic discharge cannon is anti-vehicle with a Hazardous Nova mode. Plasma Plume rewards aggressive Advance moves. Use 4–8 of these models if you want to feel like an angry T'au commander on fire.
