ABILITIES

CORE

FACTION

Oath of Moment. Phantasmal Astartes (Legion of the Damned detachment rule applies to this model).

LEADER

This model can be attached to a unit of Damned Legionnaires. While attached, the Damned Legionnaires unit gains +1 to the Hit roll on Charge and [DEVASTATING WOUNDS] on all bolt weapons (in addition to the detachment rule's effects).

PHANTASMAL FORM

This model has the [FEEL NO PAIN 5+] ability against all attacks, AND each time an attack is allocated to this model, after determining if the attack is successful, your opponent must roll one D6: on a 4+, the attack still resolves; on a 1-3, the attack fizzles harmlessly (treat as a miss). This represents Centurius's half-real state — sometimes physical, sometimes spectral.

ANIMUS MALORUM (WARGEAR — DAEMON SKULL-RELIC)

The skull-relic in Centurius's off-hand drinks the souls of the dying within its reach, and returns them as the manifested forms of his fallen brothers.

Each time an enemy model is destroyed within 12" of this model by any cause (friendly attack, ranged or melee), place one Soul counter beside this model. Centurius can hold a maximum of 3 Soul counters at any time. Once per turn, in your Command phase OR at the end of any phase in which a friendly Damned Legionnaires unit lost one or more models, you can spend 1 Soul counter to return one destroyed Damned Legionnaire model to a friendly Damned Legionnaires unit on the battlefield within 9" of Centurius. The returned model is set up in Unit Coherency, more than 6" from any enemy unit, with 1 wound remaining. The soul is consumed in the act of manifestation.

Vengeful Spectre

If a friendly Damned Legionnaires unit was destroyed earlier in this battle, each time this model or its attached unit makes an attack against the enemy unit that destroyed the Damned Legionnaires, re-roll all failed Hit rolls AND failed Wound rolls. Centurius hunts the killers of his fallen brothers across the war.

Manifestation

During deployment, instead of setting up this model and its attached unit on the battlefield, you can place it in Strategic Reserves. From battle round 1, this model and its unit can arrive: set up wholly within 6" of any battlefield edge OR wholly within 6" of a Damned Legionnaires unit on the battlefield, and more than 6" from any enemy models. The Damned arrive where they are needed, not where they are expected.

Designer's Note

Homebrew — 2nd-3rd Ed source. Sergeant Centurius was the iconic 1990s 2nd Ed plastic-and-metal Legion of the Damned character — the white flame-skull-marked Sergeant figure that defined the chapter's visual identity for two editions. The 1990 sculpt depicted him holding a daemon-bound skull-relic in his off-hand: the Animus Malorum, which captured the souls of the dying and could return fallen Damned Legionnaires to the fight. This 10e homebrew restores all four signature elements: (1) Phantasmal Form with a 4+-roll attack-ignore (half-real spectral state); (2) Animus Malorum Soul-counter mechanic (kills nearby feed resurrections, max 3 counters, 1/turn cap); (3) Vengeful Spectre re-rolls vs killers of fallen brothers; (4) Manifestation arrival from anywhere on the battlefield. Animus Malorum specifically captures the iconic "kill an enemy near Centurius → bring a Damned brother back" loop from the original 2nd Ed Codex: Imperialis rules. Pair with the Legion of the Damned detachment card (`legion_of_the_damned_detachment_card.html`) for the full chapter ruleset. Paint: deep black with bone-white flame markings + bone-white half-skull face. Sculpt the off-hand carrying a small Chaos-mark skull (the Animus Malorum) if proxying. 11e codex update (18 Oct 2026): power armour T5 like the codex Intercessors and the Chaos Legionaries; Astartes bolt weapons S5 AP-1 (pistols [CLOSE-QUARTERS]) and codex-named weapons on the codex profile; points scaled with Captain 80→90.
