Composition

This datasheet covers a Battery of 1-3 Tarantula Sentry Guns. Each Tarantula is a separate single-model unit, deployed and tracked independently. Points listed are per Tarantula — a Battery is sold as 1 (40 pts), 2 (80 pts), or 3 (120 pts) Tarantulas.

Core

[DEADLY DEMISE 1]. This model cannot move under any circumstances. It cannot Fall Back, cannot be moved by abilities, and cannot embark or disembark from a transport.

Automated

This model is unmanned. It automatically passes Battle-shock tests and ignores morale-affecting abilities. It cannot perform Actions, cannot hold objectives (OC 0), and cannot be the target of friendly buffs that require it to have a crew or operator.

Automated Targeting

At the start of each Shooting phase, instead of being selected by its controlling player, this model automatically fires at the nearest visible enemy unit within range.

UNIT COMPOSITION

Designer's Note. Tarantula is the Heresy's automated sentry turret — unmanned, immobile, firing at the nearest visible enemy automatically. No direct 10e/11e analog (canonical 40k doesn't have automated sentries). HB: T6/Sv4+/W3 (compact emplacement) plus Immobile, Automated (auto-fire at nearest enemy each Shooting phase), and 4 weapon options at +/- modifier pricing. 40 pts base for a heavy bolter Tarantula, lascannon at +20 makes it 60 pts. Sold in batteries of 1-3 turrets — a defensive force-multiplier, park them on an objective and they hold the ground until killed. 11th-edition verification, 2026-08-30: confirmed still current in fresh HH3e BSData (`Legiones Astartes.json`, non-hidden, typed "Vehicle"; real M "-" confirms this card's M0"/Immobile is correct). Real profile uses the older Vehicle armour-facing format (Front10/Side10/Rear10/HP2) rather than T/W/SV — no direct comparison possible, kept as-is (format conversion only). This is a genuinely distinct unit from the Mechanicum "Mechanicum Tarantula Battery" converted earlier this session — same real-world concept, but a separate BSData entry and a separate homebrew card for the Legiones Astartes force.
