

VETERAN ASSAULT SQUAD

JUMP-PACK VETERANS

ADEPTUS ASTARTES — LEGIONES ASTARTES (HORUS HERESY)

The Heresy's jump-pack hammer — veterans clad in jump-pack rigs, dropping behind the enemy line and pulling down whatever the Legion needs broken.

Core

[DEEP STRIKE]. This unit is eligible to declare a charge in a turn in which it arrived from Reserves via Deep Strike.

Hammer of the Legion

On a turn in which this unit completed a Charge move, melee attacks made by models in this unit have the [SUSTAINED HITS 1] ability. Models attacking with a Power Fist or Thunder Hammer also have the [LETHAL HITS] ability that turn.

Sons of the Legion (Veterans)

Once per battle, in the Fight phase, before this unit fights, you can declare it is "Fighting on Glory": until the end of the phase, this unit re-rolls Wound rolls of 1 in melee and ignores modifiers to its Battle-shock tests.

UNIT COMPOSITION

5 or 10 models: 1 Veteran Assault Sergeant and 4-9 Veteran Assault Legionaries, all with jump packs. All models carry Chainswords and Bolt Pistols. Up to 4 models can replace their Chainsword with a Power Weapon, paired Lightning Claws, or a Thunder Hammer (one weapon type per model). The Sergeant can take a Power Fist or Thunder Hammer.

Designer's Note. Veteran Assault Squads are the Heresy's jump-pack hammer — veterans clad in jump-pack rigs, dropping behind the enemy line and pulling down whatever the Legion needs broken. Canonical 10e/11e Vanguard Veterans cover the role partially, but the HH version is more dangerous in two ways: more melee-weapon flexibility (paired lightning claws, lots of power-fist/thunder-hammer slots) and a once-per-battle "Fighting on Glory" payoff that mirrors the HH-era Reactions system. HB design: jump-pack Marine baseline (M12"/T4/Sv3+) plus Sustained Hits 1 on the charge, Lethal Hits for hammers and fists, and a once-per-battle re-roll-Wound-1s-in-melee. 130 pts for 5 / 260 for 10 sits slightly above canonical Vanguard Veterans, paid for in melee-weapon options and Fighting on Glory. 11th-edition verification, 2026-08-30: real profiles confirmed in `Legiones Astartes.json` (Veteran Legionary and Veteran Sergeant, both typed "Infantry (Antigrav)", M12) — SAV3+ matched this card exactly, no invuln in either, no correction needed.
